Rebecca Le Vine serves clients nationwide as a top expert in career transitioning. Her consultancy is known for its evaluation processes and career planning techniques. Unlike many career coaches, Rebecca helps those who feel trapped at a job or stuck in a career by taking a holistic view of the client. By looking at the whole person with individualized support, she helps create new opportunities that are aligned with the skills, talents, and desires of her clients. In her own words, Rebecca says, "My mission is to save clients from remaining in jobs that they don't love, and careers that they don't enjoy, and help them to identify and believe in their possibilities."
